SELECTED TO HEAD THE WOOLEN MILLS

Don A. Bollinger Elected by Directors to Assume Presidency of Big Industrial Plant.

SUCCEEDS LATE B. F. SCHNECK

Charles A. Hemmer, Who Has Served as Secretary of Company, Also Chosen as Treasurer.

At a meeting of the directors of the Seymour Woolen Mills Monday, Don A. Bollinger, who has been in charge of the sales department for several years, was elected president of the company, succeeding the late Benjamin F. Schneck. Charles A. Hemmer, who has served as secretary of the company for a number of years, was elected treasurer and will hold both positions.

The selection of Mr. Bollinger as president and of Mr. Hemmer as secretary-treasurer means that the policy of the company in the future will be practically unchanged inasmuch as they have shared in the responsibilities of the management during the illness of the late president. The selection of Mr. Bollinger and Mr. Hemmer to their respective positions in the company is a signal honor for them and comes in recognition of capability, experience and faithfulness.

Mr. Bollinger has been connected with the Woolen Mills for the last ten years and during the last five or six years has had charge of the sales department, which under his management has been very successful, many new lines of trade having been developed. He is one of the prominent young business men of the city and is connected with a number of civic organizations.

Mr. Hemmer was first employed by the mill twelve years ago as a stenographer and bookkeeper but because of his ability he was promoted from time to time to positions of additional importance. He is thoroughly familiar with the several departments of the mills and is well qualified for the new responsibilities that will rest upon him.

George Bartlett will continue as factory superintendent which position he has held for the past year.

TWO MEN STOPPED WITH A SHOTGUN

Harry Burrell and M. Price Arrested After Being Hunted by Posse Two Nights and a Day.

BOTH RECEIVE FLESH WOUNDS

Alleged to Have Stolen Money From Woman and a Talking Machine From Farmer.

Harry Burrell, a former resident of this city, and a man giving his name as M. Price, were arrested early this morning at the edge of a woods on the Thomas Branaman farm in Owen township by a posse of men deputized by H. L. McCord, county sheriff, after a shotgun had been discharged at them, shot taking effect in the bodies of both men. Burrell suffered the worst as a result of the gun being discharged at them a number of shots having entered his leg and hip but neither of the men was seriously injured. The men had been hunted by the sheriffs of Jackson and Lawrence counties and a posse of men for two nights and one day.

The two men are alleged to have entered the home of Mrs. Sallie Douglass, at Heltonville, Lawrence county, Sunday morning, while the aged woman was at church and stole $20 in cash. The robbery was discovered upon her return home and she immediately notified the Lawrence county authorities and late in the afternoon bloodhounds were brought to the scene. They were put on the men's trail and a posse was formed to hunt the robbers. The men were trailed across the Jackson county line to the home of J. F. Terry, in Owen township.

At the Terry home it was learned that the two men had stolen an Edison talking machine and about twenty-four records. From the Terry farm the men were trailed about four miles to a farm house where it was learned that two men had traded a Stilson wrench for some milk. At this place the men also gave a phonograph concert for the benefit of the farmer's family, with the stolen talking machine, for which it is alleged the men represented themselves to be the agents.

The officers and posse of men continued their hunt and the robbers trail lead to within about five miles of Brownstown when it suddenly changed to the Clearspring direction. The men were trailed into the Branaman woods late Monday night. Sheriff H. L. McCord, returned to Brownstown last night instructing the men he had deputized to be on the job early this morning when the men would likely come out for something to eat.

The men picked up the trail again this morning and it was learned that they had been to a nearby farm house for something to eat. The posse caught up with the men just as they were climbing the fence to make their disappearance into the dense woods. Burrell had a .38 caliber automatic revolver which he flashed when, or Pol of School Children and Value of Personal Property in Pershing Township Taken.

The case of William T. McKain, trustee of Pershing township against the county auditor, for funds due the township from the county which started in the Jackson circuit court Monday before Judge James A. Cox, has been continued until the latter part of the week. The case was brought to issue at a hearing in this city held Monday, July 21.

Judge Cox has continued the case in order that a poll can be taken of the school children and the value of personal property can be secured, to be introduced as evidence. The attorneys for the plaintiff and defendant agreed to continue the case until this evidence could be introduced.

It will take two or three days to get the desired information and the case will likely be completed Friday or Saturday.

TAX ON SODA WATER MAY BE REPEALED

House Votes to Abolish Clause of Luxury Tax Law Which Has Resulted in Many Complaints.

PETITION CIRCULATED HERE

Many Local People Affixed Signatures to Paper Asking for Repeal of Provision.

Action which was taken in the house Monday afternoon indicates that the tax on soda water and ice cream is doomed. The house voted to repeal the section of the luxury tax law which provides for the collection of such revenues and it is understood that the senate will take like action within a short time. The bill is to be taken from the house to the senate without delay, it is stated.

The fight of the soft drink "fans" to secure the repeal of this law has been carried into every community. Blank petitions were mailed out some time ago and several were circulated here and were signed by scores of local people who regard ice cream and soda water as necessities rather than luxuries.

Protests against the tax were particularly strong in the large cities where during the summer months many clerks and others purchase

LABOR SITUATION AT HAMMOND IS TENSE

Employees of Standard Steel Car Co. Endeavors to Free Strikers Who Are Held.

By United Press
Hammond, Ind., July 29.—The labor situation in industrial districts here today was tense as strikers from the Standard Steel Car plant endeavored to free their striking co-workers from the police station. The workmen were enjoined from interfering with the operation of the plant in an injunction granted at Gosheen late yesterday by Francis E. Baker, judge in the United States Circuit Court of appeals.

Petitions for habeas corpus have been filed for release of the strikers, whom the unions declare are held without warrant and without due process of law.

WILSON PRESENTS DEFENSIVE PACT

Urges Immediate Ratification of the British-French-American Agreement.

TEXT IS SENT BY MESSENGER

President Takes Occasion to Ask for Ratification of the General Treaty of Peace.

By United Press

Washington, July 29.—America is bound by its debt to France to ratify the treaty, pledging military aid to that nation in event of unprovoked German attack, President Wilson told the senate today in submitting the French-American defensive agreement for ratification.

The president's address was in message form. He did not go to the capitol. He explained that the situation of France seemed to require a special temporary pact under which the United States and Britain volunteered to anticipate action on the league of nations by going immediately to the aid of France, should Germany strike.

He made it plain that as soon as the league council shall decide that the league is sufficient guarantee of France's safety, the special treaty will no longer remain in force.

The president emphasized that there is no doubt expressed or implied of the ultimate efficacy of the league in France's urgent request for the treaty. But he added, "the years immediately ahead of us contain many incalculable possibilities."

He explained how the league is empowered to advise military action by members; how that might involve delay, which in the case of surprise by Germany might prove fatal. The United States, the president pointed out, owes France a special debt of gratitude, which we can never fully repay. But this treaty, he urged, will be an expression in the fullest sense of our gratitude of French help in winning our independence. It was this, he said, which moved him as much as anything else to sign the treaty.

The president took occasion to urge early ratification not only of this special treaty, but of the peace treaty as well. The president's messenger arrived at the senate chamber soon after the senate met. An hour later Senator Lodge found opportunity to move that the message be laid before the senate in open session. It was at once referred to the foreign relations committee.

CHICAGO AWAKENS TO FIND STRIKE OF TRACTION MEN

Difficulty Experienced by Business Firms in Conveying Employees to Work.

By United Press

Chicago, July 29.—Chicago was caught today by a surprise strike of traction company employees who housed their cars at 4 a. m. Both elevated and surface line employees rejected the compromise in their wage controversy. 15,000 men refused an offer of twenty cents an hour increase. The strike decision came late last night when street car men in a riotous meeting were carried along by radicals who demanded a seventy-seven percent raise.

"Strike, strike," was reiterated from the time the meeting began.

Department stores, factories and other big business houses began earlier sending touring cars, trucks and other vehicles after their employees. An appeal was made to the war division here, for motor lorries. A factory owning two airplanes pressed them in service, but few accepted. The price was steep.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Katsanes and children, of Cincinnati, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. James Demas. Mrs. Katsanes is a sister of Mrs. Demas. Other guests at the Demas home are Mrs. Chris Zesoplos and children and Mrs. Michael Stavropoulos and children, of Kokomo.

RACE WAR CLAIMS TWENTY-ONE LIVES

More Than 150 Injured in Riots Between Whites and Negroes in Chicago.

SITUATION UNDER CONTROL

Colored People Rush to Police Stations Fearing Violence at Hands of Rioters.

By United Press

Chicago, July 29.—The list of known dead in Chicago's peace riots was increased to twenty-one today when a white man was shot and killed by a negro woman just outside the city's business district. The woman was arrested. The riots suppressed largely in the black belt, flared up in other sections of the city throughout the morning. There were several shootings and stabbings, mostly by small gangs, well out from the district so heavily patrolled by the officers.

Racial antipathy spread to the county jail where negroes and whites were mingled. With difficulty the officers broke up the battle. Troubles of the police were increased on rumors of the forming of a mob to march on the county jail to demand the release of Thomas Fitzgerald, charged with the murder of six-year-old Janet Wilkins. The riots termed here the most serious ever occurring in a northern city were sporadic affairs, taking the vigilance of the police to the utmost. More than 150 have been injured in the clashes.

Developments today included appeals by Governor Frank O. Lowden, negro leaders and city officials to get together to settle the difficulties.

Police stations in the negro districts were filled with injured and frightened residents of the black belt, seeking protection. An overflow was cared for in city hospitals and police stations further removed from the storm center.

State militiamen were held fully equipped with riot guns and ammunition in their armories. Governor Lowden here to confer with city officials over the riots and street car strikes instructed the adjutant-general to rush troops to the riot districts whenever police called for help.

City officials said the situation is under control and troops probably will not be needed.

Arson, murder and riot grew out of troubles at a bathing beach where whites attempted to enforce a Jim Crow rule.

Quiet at first Monday, the black belt began to seethe at noon. At 7:30 occurred the first riot when two negroes glibed a police detective as "poor white trash." From the neighborhood came a shot. The officer drew his own revolver. Almost instantly two hundred white men and negroes were in a whirling mass.

Bricks flew. Sweating black faces were clubbed as fifty policemen rushed into the melee. The mob broke away, leaving forty or more seriously injured. Thirty-two were taken direct to hospitals. The number included black and white men.

Portions of the mob were detached from the initial storm center. One band of negroes encountering Policemen Brooks of the traffic squad opened fire. Brooks forced his horse down to the pavement and, stretched out on the sticky asphalt, fought Indian fashion until help arrived.

There were isolated attacks on both whites and blacks. In their own district groups of colored men and boys stopped autoists, wrecked their machines, tore the clothing from the travelers and let them go with insults.

The stock yards district with thousands of negro residents was an early storm center. Negroes took possession of elevated railway crossings and fired into the street or at elevated trains a few blocks away.

Street cars and elevated trains were favorite targets. As trainmen began housing their cars in obedience to the strike edict, traffic thinned and fighting was confined to the street.

BANKER TO BE TRIED ON LIQUOR LAW CHARGE

Demas Deming Terre Haute financier, Arrested Following Raid of His Cellar.

By United Press

Terre Haute, July 29—Demas Deming, 78, wealthy president of the First National Bank and other financial institutions here, was to be tried today on a charge of violating the state prohibition law.

The cellar of the Deming mansion was raided recently and the millionaire was arrested when two men found with a quantity of liquor said they had taken it from the cellar. The raid did not reveal any whisky.

A. Thomas, city court prosecutor, prepared to meet what he considers the two main points of the defense: First, that the police found no whisky or wines in the big wine cellars under the Deming mansion; and second, that if Deming did have whisky there, it was for his use and not for sale.

Thomas pointed out that the city court has repeatedly held in similar cases, where the defendant was a poor man, that a quantity of liquor over a gallon was prima facie evidence that it was for sale.

The state relies on the sworn statements of William C. Mitchell a painter, of this city, and Walter Followell, 39, of Indianapolis, that they entered the wine cellar at the Deming home early Monday and stole twenty-two quarts of whisky and a quart of gin.

The two alleged burglars were caught by the police with the whisky in a gunny sack in an alley a short distance from the banker's home about 3 a. m. Monday. A taxi cab driver, who told the police he was hired by the two painters to meet them in an alley, drove the police to the meeting place.

Both men signed purported confessions and repeated on the witness stand that they stole the whisky from the Deming wine cellar.

Mitchell, who had been employed at the Deming home, said the wine cellar contained at least a hundred quarts of "booze" while Followell contended that there were at least six hundred quarts.

Oscar Bonham, one of the officers who searched the house, stated there was evidence that bottles had been hurriedly removed from the wine racks as well as from boxes in the wine cellar. He also reported that one of the big touring cars at the Deming home was not in the garage at the time of the search.

Bonham also reported that a cork of a whisky bottle was found in a large basket in the cellar. Deming denied possession of the whisky.

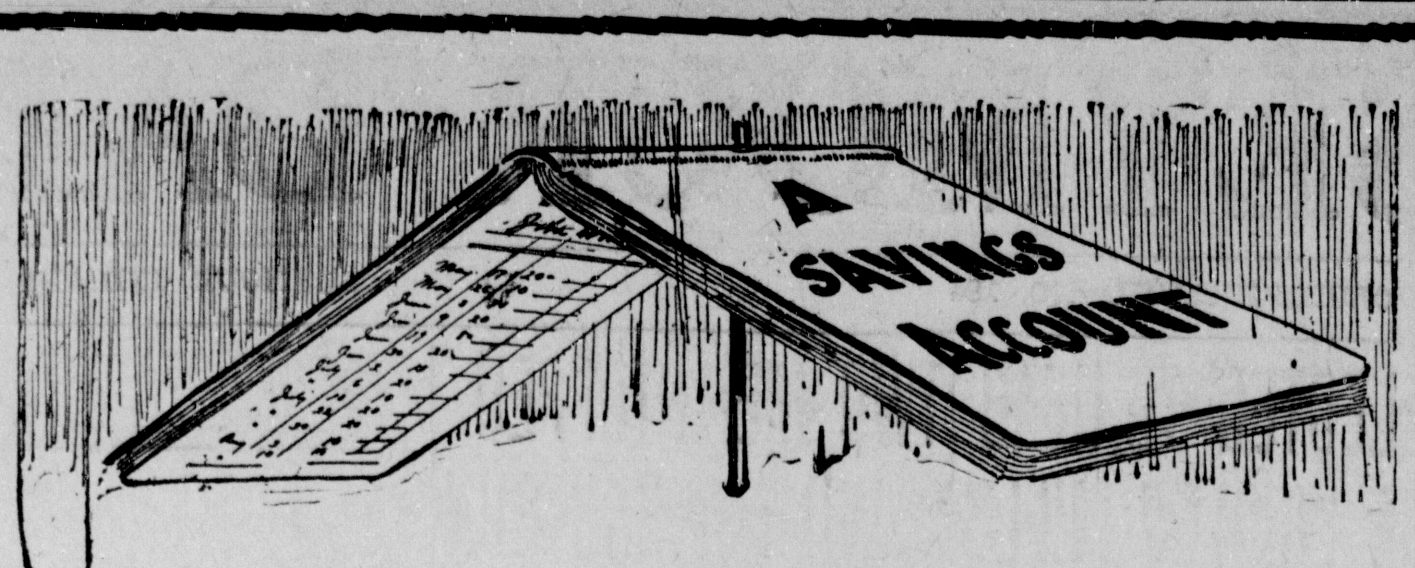

Mrs. Henry Darringer returned to her home in Hayden Monday afternoon after a visit with her sister, Mrs. Frank Capes.

COAL MINER QUICK TO NOTICE CHANGE

"I Think Trutona's Going To Make A New Man of Me," Norton Says.

Evansville, Ind., July 28—Almost everyone is familiar with the severe physical strain to which the coal miner is subjected in his daily work and consequently most everyone can easily realize why David Norton, 66, Evansville miner of 22 Stahlhefer avenue, is so grateful for the remarkable relief he gained in Trutona. "I believe this tonic is going to make a new man of me," Norton told friends recently. "I was bothered with rheumatism and stomach trouble and for the last eight years I've had malaria 'off and on'. Dull chills attacked me frequently and the rheumatic pains in my shoulders were a perfect torture to me at times. I some times felt like the pit of my stomach was raw. I seldom slept well at night.

"I've just finished my first bottle of Trutona and I have slept better the last few nights than I have for months. This tonic has helped my rheumatism so much that I don't have any trouble in getting a good night's rest. And to think, I used to lay awake half the night. Yes I'm glad to recommend Trutona."

Trutona is now being introduced and explained in Seymour at W. L. Federmann's Drug Store.

Mrs. George Schiller, Mr. and Mrs. George Angery and John Schiller, of Dubois, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gardner for the past few days, left this morning for their homes.

dered to halt. One of the posse drew a shotgun and ordered him to put the revolver back in his pocket which he did and at the same time both men started to run. They were ordered to halt and the shotgun was discharged in the air several times without the desired result and finally one of the posse fired direct at the men causing them to stop and throw up their hands.

The two men were taken into custody until Sheriff McCord arrived from Brownstown. The sheriff took the men to the county seat and placed them in jail. A physician was called to attend their injuries which are not serious. As soon as they are able to stand the trip the men will be turned over to the Lawrence county authorities where they will be tried on a housebreaking charge.

Burrell has been in trouble on several former occasions and has served a term in the Indiana reformatory having been found guilty in the Jackson circuit court of breaking into a house at Vallonia several years ago and stealing some money and other valuables. Price is a stranger. Sheriff McCord stated this afternoon that it was possible that he had given a fictitious name considering the fact that he has the name "M.

Castle" tattooed on one of his arms. If found guilty of the housebreaking charge the men will likely spend several years in prison as the penalty for such charge carries with it a term of from five to twenty years. The men will likely be taken to Bedford to await a hearing the latter part of this week.

of the past have demonstrated to the people of Jackson and adjoining counties that our sales are not make believe but are bona-fide sales.

WE ARE PARTICULARLY PROUD of the fact that we have never employed sales agencies, but have always put on our own sales. At least 50% of the merchandise we are offering for sale is being sold for less than present whole-sale prices, and about 25% is being offered at prices which will mean three pairs of shoes in place of one.

Following demonstration of bargain values should convince the most skeptical that we do as we advertise.

You cannot afford to miss this greatest of opportunities of money saving, and if you fail to attend you certainly will be the loser.

We are having this sale in the face of a rising market, and the only reason we can afford to do so is because we bought early and bought right but rather heavy, and therefore must reduce our stock considerably as our Fall Goods are beginning to arrive and we need money in order to discount all our bills.

Our stock comprises hundreds of values not here enumerated, but you can bet your bottom dollar that whatever you want we can sell you for less.

We want to sell everything in our Men's Oxfords, therefore these extraordinary low prices. The Men's Oxfords consist of the well known brands of Emerson, A. E. Nettleton, Williams-Kneeland, etc. All high grade custom made oxfords.

STRIKE AT EVANSVILLE

Master Bakers Wear White Aprons While Employees Are Out.

By United Press

Evansville, Ind., July 29—Master bakers continued to wear white aprons and bake their own bread today while their employees struck for recognition of the union. Grocers sent wagons to the bakeries and in this way the bread was distributed. Many cities in southern Indiana, Illinois and Northwestern Kentucky supplied with bread from this city did not receive their regular shipments, but this city did not suffer. The strike did not appear to be much nearer an end today.

Want to Feel Just Right?

Take an NR Tonight

JUST TRY IT AND SEE how much better you feel in the morning. That "lousy" headachy, tired, don't-know-what's-the-matter feeling will be gone—you'll feel fine.

TROUBLE IS, your system is clogged with a lot of impurities that your over-worked digestive and eliminative organs can't get rid of. Pills, oil, salts, calomel and ordinary laxatives, cathartics and purges only force the bowels and prod the liver.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) acts on the stomach, liver, bowels and even kidneys, not forcing, but toning and strengthening these organs. The result is prompt relief and real, lasting benefit. Make the test. Nature's Remedy will act promptly, thoroughly, yet so mildly, so gently, that you will think nature herself has come to the rescue and is doing the work.

And oh, what a relief! You'll be surprised to find how much better you feel—brighter, better every way. If habitually or stubbornly constipated, take one NR Tablet each night for a week. Then you'll not have to take medicine every day. Just an occasional NR Tablet after that will be sufficient to keep your system in good condition—keep you feeling your best.

CHAPTER II.

Another citizen said an eloquent thing about Miss Isabel Amberson's looks. This was Mrs. Henry Franklin Foster, the foremost literary authority and intellectual leader of the community—for both the daily newspapers thus described Mrs. Foster when she founded the Women's Tennyson club; and her word upon art, letters and the drama was accepted more as law than as opinion. Naturally when "Hazel Kirke" finally reached town, after its long triumph in larger places, many people waited to hear what Mrs. Henry Franklin Foster thought of it before they felt warranted in expressing any estimate of the play. In fact, some of them waited in the lobby of the theater as they came out and formed an inquiring group about her. "I didn't see the play," she informed them.

"What! Why, we saw you, right in the middle of the fourth row!"

"Yes," she said, smiling. "but I was sitting just behind Isabel Amberson. I couldn't look at anything except her wavy brown hair and the wonderful back of her neck."

The ineligible young men of the town (they were all ineligible) were unable to content themselves with the view that had so charmed Mrs. Henry Franklin Foster; they spent their time struggling to keep Miss Amberson's face turned toward them. She turned it most often, observers said, toward two: one excelling in the general struggle by his sparkle, and the other by that winning if not winsome old trait, persistence. The sparkling gentleman "led Germans" with her, and sent sonnets to her with his bouquets—sonnets lacking neither music nor wit. He was generous, poor, well-dressed, and his amazing persuasiveness was one reason why he was always in debt. No one doubted that he would be able to persuade Isabel, but he unfortunately joined too merry a party one night, and during a moonlight serenade upon the lawn before the Amberson mansion, was easily identified from the windows as the person who stepped through the bass viol and had to be assisted to a waiting carriage. One of Miss Amberson's brothers was among the serenaders, and when the party had dispersed remained propped against the front door in a state of helpless liveliness; the Major going down in a dressing gown and slippers to bring him in, and scolding mildly, while imperfectly concealing strong impulses to laughter. Miss Amberson also laughed at this brother the next day, but for the suitor it was a different matter: she refused to see him when he called to apologize. "You seem to care a great deal about bass viols!" he wrote her. "I promise never to break another." She made no response to the note, unless it was an answer, two weeks later, when her engagement was announced. She took the persistent one, Wilbur Minafer.

A few people, who always foresaw everything, claimed that they were not surprised, because though Wilbur Minafer "might not be an Apollo, as it were," he was "a steady young business man and a good church goer," and Isabel Amberson was "pretty sensible—for such a showy girl." But the engagement astounded the young people, and most of their fathers and mothers too; and as a topic it supplanted literature at the next meeting of the "Women's Tennyson club."

"Wilbur Minafer!" a member cried, her inflection seeming to imply that Wilbur's crime was explained by his surname. "Wilbur Minafer! It's the quickest thing I ever heard! To think of her taking Wilbur Minafer, just because a man any woman would like a thousand times better was a little wild one night at a serenade!"

"No, that wasn't her reason," said wise Mrs. Henry Franklin Foster. "If men only knew it—and it's a good thing they don't—a woman doesn't really care much about whether a man's wild or not, if it doesn't affect herself, and Isabel Amberson doesn't care a thing!"

"Mrs. Foster?"

"No, she doesn't. What she minds is his making a clown of himself in her front yard! It made her think he didn't care much about her. She's probably mistaken, but that's what she thinks, and it's too late for her to think anything else now, because she's going to be married right away—the invitations will be out next week. It'll be a big Amberson-style thing, raw oysters floating in scooped-out blocks of ice and a band from out of town—champagne, showy presents; a colossal present from the Major. Then Wilbur will take Isabel on the carefulest little wedding trip he can manage, and she'll be a good wife to him, but they'll have the worst spoiled lot of children this town will ever see."

"How on earth do you make that out, Mrs. Foster?"

"She couldn't love Wilbur, could she?" Mrs. Foster demanded, with no challengers. "Well, it will all go to her children, and she'll ruin 'em!"

The prophesies proved to be mistaken in a single detail merely: except for that her foresight was accurate. The wedding was of Ambersonian magnificence, even to the floating oysters; and the Major's colossal present was a set of architect's designs for a house almost as elaborate and impressive as the Mansion, the house to be built in Amberson addition by the Major.

At midnight the bride was still being toasted in champagne, though she had departed upon her wedding journey at ten. Four days later the pair had returned to town, which promptness seemed fairly to demonstrate that Wilbur had indeed taken Isabel upon the carefulest little trip he could manage. According to every report she was from the start "a good wife to him," but here in a final detail the prophecy proved inaccurate. Wilbur and Isabel did not have children; they had only one.

"Only one," Mrs. Henry Franklin Foster admitted. "But I'd like to know if he isn't spoiled enough for a whole carload!"

Again she found none to challenge her.

At the age of nine George Amberson Minafer, the Major's one grandchild, was a princely terror, dreaded not only in Amberson addition but in many other quarters through which he galloped on his white pony. "Ty

"You Think You Own This Town!"

golly, I guess you think you own this town!" an embittered laborer complained one day, as George rode the pony straight through a pile of sand the man was sieving. "I will when I grow up," the undisturbed child replied. "I guess my grandpa owns it now, you bet!" And the baffled workman, having no means to controvert what seemed a mere exaggeration of the facts, could only mutter, "Oh, pull down your vest!"

"Don't haf to! Doctor says it ain't healthy!" the boy returned promptly. "But I tell you what I'll do: I'll pull down my vest if you'll wipe off your chin!"

This was stock and stencil: the accustomed argot of street badinage of the period; and in such matters George was an expert. He had no vest to pull down; the incongruous fact was that a fringed sash girdled the juncture of his velvet blouse and breeches, for the Fauntleroy period

"Honey, you're some cook."

These are the most thrilling words in the English language.

They spring from the very depths of a man's heart, just a fraction of an inch from his stomach. For centuries they have been the inspiration to better baking and lovelier meals the world over.

Such words are oftenest spoken where Valier's Enterprise Flour is used—for who couldn't do beautiful baking with such superlative flour.

been considerable misunderstanding relative to the interpretation of the law and the dealers in the various communities have agreed among themselves how the tax is to be collected. In some places a tax of one cent is demanded on each five cent drink or ice cream cone, while in others the tax is based on a unit of a ten cent purchase.

The house also voted to reduce the tax on apple juices and loganberry drinks. Until the senate acts, however, the dealers will be required to collect the tax as the law stands until it is definitely repealed by both house and senate action.

LOOKED LIKE A SHADOW

And Was Weak And Nervous Says Cardui Restored Her Health.

Leavenworth, Ind.—Mrs. Hattie Curtis, of this place, writes: "Before the birth of my first child I was nervous and weakly, had been from the time of my marriage. I was so frail I looked like a shadow, my skin was yellow, I didn't weigh but one hundred and nine pounds. All were uneasy about me and thought I would get down in bed."

I had heard what a wonderful help Cardui was to weak women and decided to try it. I took Cardui four months regular. I felt like a different woman. When my baby came I had a right hard time, but my strength seemed there to stay, for I was strong and healthy and have been ever since."

I now weigh 167 lbs., and people who knew me when I was so weakly often speak of it. And often people do not recognize me. I look so well."

Back of Cardui, the woman's tonic, stands the experience of thousands of people—women, who have benefited by it; physicians, who have prescribed it in their practice, with good results.

If you suffer, as most women do at times, from female ailments, is not such a medicine worthy of a trial?
